History Department: Workshop on Pottery making and Calligraphy

2nd March 2024: The History Department of Salesian College of Higher education organized a workshop on pottery making and calligraphy in collaboration with the "Wandering Minds Institute of Fine Arts" at Midland, Sewak Colony, Dimapur. The workshop started at 10 a.m., and saw the active participation of 46 enthusiastic students alongside the guidance of three dedicated Assistant Professors.

The pottery making session began with a keynote address by Mr. Lanu on the connection between pottery and history. Under the supervision of skilled instructors, the students molded clay into unique pottery pieces using pinching method as well as on the wheel. The workshop allowed students to connect with ancient crafts, bridging the gap between history and practical skills. The Calligraphy session focused on basic techniques on the art of beautiful writing, reflecting historical scripts and styles. Students were introduced to various calligraphy techniques by expert instructors. This segment not only enhanced their artistic skills but also deepened their understanding of the historical context of calligraphy.
